What is the seminar about? Who should attend?

While 2016 saw a decrease in the number of mortgage applications made to the courts, the overall number of such proceedings continues to dominate the court lists, be it the circuit or high court. Borrowers continue to successfully raise defences to the claims of banks seeking possession of their property. For instance, the courts - and indeed the media - have started focusing on whether the terms contained in standard mortgage agreements are fair as between the parties. Specifically, a number of recent high profile cases have been won by borrowers relying on the Unfair Terms in Consumer Contracts Regulations. One of the new features of this year's mortgage update is to focus on those Regulations and how borrowers may be able to rely on them in defending mortgage applications. As well as that, we focus on other key developments over the past year in this area of mortgage proceedings.

- Solicitors and barristers.
- Insolvency practitioners.
- Accountants.
- Secured creditors.
- Debt recovery specialists.
- Anyone with an interest in banking!
